Federal Bureau of Investigation

Dear Sir:

I persist in my allegations which I first cited exactly six years ago at the Newark field office. The complaint which I cite was orally presented to an agent at that office. A few months ago I attempted to obtain a copy of what had been retained on file through FOIA. I attach a copy of the Bureau's response. Neither my initial complaint nor any correspondence is available "on file." It would also seem that there has been no discernible attempt to establish the veracity of my allegations. Previous correspondence in the intervening time period from myself, sought to;

- 1) provide impetus for an investigation of several individuals which I cite below and
- 2) to request assistance in obtaining medical screening. No response has ever been received to any of these points. I submit that the non-existence of any documentation regarding my previous statement and subsequent correspondence creates a highly suspect environment at the Newark field office.

The following is essentially the gist of my initial complaint, filed March 1995:

toward the development of a fruitful investigation.

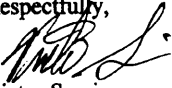

2. I hold drugs in abhorrence. I could never understand how anyone could involve himself in affairs that are essentially responsible for the destruction of families, and of entire neighborhoods. As such I hold such individuals, as I cite above, in the strongest contempt.

welfare of the greater at large community.

It is hoped that the Bureau pursue an active investigation into the individuals, politically powerful or not, who are involved in such nefarious activities as I describe above. I have never held an interest in any business which can be described as competing against any of the individuals which I cite above. Nor am I in a position to profit by any Bureau investigation impacting on any of the above cited individuals or any of their businesses.

Respectfully,

Victor Saraiva
